JUST FOR FUN

Most people believe that all activities that are fun must be run by rules and regulations. Who says that this has to be so? Several students enjoy the thrill of victory without having to worry about an overabundant amount of rules.

Several of these activities include: horseback-riding, cycling, on up to the ever-popular sports of cattle showing. A majority of the students have hobbies that fit their personalities and talents.

Although a majority of the students do not receive public recognition, they can still enjoy the feeling of doing something worthwhile and something that they enjoy. So the next time that you hear someone say that the spirit of sports is ruined by too many rules and regulations, you can tell them that this is not so, that all they have to do is experiment.

Danoe Fuhrman, freshman, spends a great deal of her free time going to various horse shows all over the state. She has won several awards in all of her horse showing years.

Larry Brond spent a great amount of his summer fishing with his brother Gary in town, and at different ponds.

Dill Graham spent much time showing his livestock at many shows this summer.

This year the yearbook staff did something a little different than what had been done in previous years. At the beginning of the year a poll was taken to find out the student body's opinions on several different subjects: the subjects included: their favorite auto, favorite television show, favorite past-time, most read book, best movie, their presidential choice, and their views on dating. The total response on the poll was very good, with over seventy-five percent answering. It was discovered, although, that some of the students could not follow directions correctly, or at least they had difficulty making one choice. The results are as follows:

WHEELS WITH APPEALS

1. Camaro
2. Trans-Am
3. Corvette
4. Monte Carlo
5. Mustang

G.H.S. Best Sellers

1. Amityville Horror
2. The Promise

3. R.E.O.
4. Stryx
5. Dee Gees
6. Little River Band
7. Van Haylen
8. The Cars
9. The Knack
10. Boston

How's Your Love Life?

One section of the poll had to deal with dating the opposite sex, the number two answer on past-times. They were asked two questions, what type of dating arrangements they'd rather have in school, and what they'd rather do on a date. Several students who could not make up their minds, made up a very clever answer of their own. Following are the results figured in percentage:

- A. 48% - Date around
- B. 11% - Have a steady
- C. 10% - Not date at all

What would you rather do on a date?" was the second question.

- A. 17% - Go to a movie
- B. 3% - Go to a dance
- C. 7% - Stay home
- D. Go parking
- E. Go partying

Prime Time Favorites

1. Mork and Mindy
2. M.A.S.H.
3. Dukes of Hazzard
4. Three's Company
5. Happy Days
6. W.K.R.P. in Cincinnati
7. 240-Robert
8. Dallas
9. Different Strokes

Bulldogs Favor Money Over Peanuts

Probably the most controversial question in the entire poll was the question of a choice for president. Given two choices, or one of your own, it was found that the Bulldogs preferred money and fame over peanuts and poverty.

Other choices ranged from Ted Nugent to Steve Martin.

- A. Kennedy- 35%
- B. Carter- 7%
- C. Other- 61%

Homecoming 'Sail On' Into Future

Even though the Homecoming game resulted in a loss, the crowning of Rana Drummer and Kirk Gulick was a definite highlight.

After a few technical difficulties the skits were an event. Mr. Bauck (alias The Wind), stole the show in the teachers' skit. That night the band "Prime" rocked all participating dancers.

The Homecoming decoration competition proved to be a school challenge. The juniors hallway prevailed the winner. The seniors ran in a close second with the sophomore and freshman following in order.

But, of course, no Homecoming would be complete without some body receiving pies in the face. Danny Schulte received this year's honors.

Next year, as in the past, the students are hoping to march down town. This year they went to the stadium for the first time for the pep rally. "I would rather go downtown because I feel that it gives the community a sense of school pride and it is something unique." (Mr. Kellstradt, StuCo sponsor)

A student felt this about the hall decorations. "It's good for the school adds to the spirit of homecoming." Kirk Gulick, '80.

"I think they should still have hall contests because it's the only thing that we do that really makes us compete with the other classes." (Gloria Neal, '80)

Christmas Dance Is A Treat

With miniature Christmas trees on the tables, and snowflakes hanging from the gym ceiling, the gym was transposed into a "Cool Change." Dark blue, light blue, and silver tinsel decorated the gym. The entrance was made to look like a waterfall with silver streamers hanging from the doorway and artificial rocks on each side. The band "Treat" provided the music.

At 9:00 o'clock the music stopped for the coronation of the FFA-FHA king and queen. The queen was Michelle Platt and the king was Mike Hastert. First attendants were Myra Miller and Carl Wittry. Giona Neal and Kenny Schillig were second attendants. Junior attendants were Toni Drummet and Mike Dieker while Tina Hermreck and Matt Rodgers were sophomore attendants. Karen Gibson and Jim Lickreig served as freshman attendants. The king and his queen were seated in a sleigh after the crowning with their attendants standing behind them.

"We had some new decorations and I really liked the coronation," (Mrs. Miller).

A song played overhead at the dance many times over was "This year the FFA and the FHA did an exceptional job decorating the gym."

Everyone seemed to really enjoy the band.

I thought "Time for a Cool Change" was a very good theme because the Christmas dance was during the change of seasons between winter and fall. Mara Feurborn, '81.

Everything went off really well (Mark Rickabaugh, '80).

A large number of students attended the formal dance this year.

1979-80 FFA-FHA Christmas dance royalty was as follows: Jim Lickreig and Karen Gibson, freshman attendants; Matt Rodgers and Tina Hermreck, sophomore attendants; Kenny Schillig and Giona Neal, second attendants; Carl Wittry and Myra Miller, first runners-up; Mike Hastert and Michelle Platt, king and queen; Bill Mersman and Kim Miller, 1978-79 king and queen, and Mike Dieker and Toni Drummet, junior attendants.

Senior attendants Carl Wittry and Michelle Platt are anxious to hear who the king and queen will be.

Students Aid For The Teachers

The long hard hours of running errands, typing papers and averaging grades are jobs that teachers and secretaries have to do. Most of this would have to be done before or after school. Lucky for some, they have students as job assistants or independent study students to help them.

"I have appreciated the independent study students very much. They help in seeing the class is functioning effectively and do the best they can to make the classroom a better learning situation" (Mrs. Rugg, science)

Several say they enjoyed the chance to take a class where they can help others. "I think the way independent study set up is good. It takes a little bit of the work load off the teachers" (Rande Young, '82)

"It gives me a chance to help other students throughout the year" (Mike Kellerman, '80)

The student helpers in the office do various things, such as take roll, lunch count, take passes to students, sort and file mail, get lessons for students and make sure the students aren't skipping out. "I've gotten to know the office and where things are kept much better" (Tammy School, '80)

The audio visual people sign out A V equipment, run cameras at games, and run different A V machines. "I've learned how to run a camera and all about the other A V equipment" (John Drum, '81)

Library helpers help Miss Dedrickson with things such as keeping books in order, shelving books and helping people who come into the library. "I enjoy it, it's my best hour" (Kathy Egger, '81)

Garnett Teachers Are Involved In Many Activities

Garnett teachers started the year with a bang at the beginning of the year and participated in Parent-Teachers conferences.

The Parent-Teachers conference is a day in which all the students are released from school. The parents can then visit the teachers and go to their son or daughter's individual classes.

This day gives the parents a chance to discuss their children without a set appointment. "The parents were very interested, they wanted to know how I graded and what areas needed to be improved. These conferences are great because they would not have been able to find out otherwise." (Melvin Dauck, typing)

The day before school started, the teaching staff of Garnett High School had a get-acquainted dinner. This dinner was to let new teachers at GHS meet their new co-workers. They met at the Windsor's house.

Soon after the beginning of this school year, the Kansas National Education Association sponsored a picnic for all the employees of the school district 365. This news was held at the Windsor's house and any USD employee could attend.

Miss Dennis enjoyed the dinner at the shelter house.

Future Farmers Are Very Active Club

The FFA is one of the most active clubs at GHS. Most members of the club live or work on a farm. Vocational Agriculture classes are a part of the FFA. The students learn about several areas of agriculture, from parliamentary procedure to learning to do electrical work, home or farm building.

Many of the things that members learn about are things they will use later after they graduate from high school. Many things that they do are first studied in the Voc Ag classroom, then put into practice in the Voc Ag department's own shop area.

Members can also participate in contests during the year. The first contest each year that members attend is the district and judging contest. They then prepare for par law, the public speaking shop skills, and finally the livestock judging contest in spring. If any one of the teams do well at their respective tests, they prepare for state contest.

All The Members Get More Involved With F.H.A.

The Future Homemakers of America had a busy year under the leadership of Myra Miller and advisors Jayne Miller and Mary Anderson. They got a lot of things achieved.

The one greatest fear I had after getting president, was that I was afraid people wouldn't think I was on the same level as they were." (Myra Miller, '80)

The Council members and some of the members sold fruit cakes for money making projects.

Members got involved with many activities F.H.A. sponsored. They visited Tri-Ko once a month and helped them celebrate Christmas. They had a bake sale and car wash at the beginning of the year. They also sponsored Santa's Workshop.

For their Save-a-gallon project they sponsored a banana-eating contest and a class competition of wrapping toilet paper around their classmates.

Later in the year they sponsored a potluck supper, a box supper, and the $1.98 beauty show.

Most of the members attended Fall Conference at Emporia which turned out to be a lot of fun.

They had two girls this year who were elected as district officers. They were Marilyn Lickreig and Shirley Hermreck.

Leadership Was The Main Goal For The Kayette Club

"This is the most active and involved group of girls that we've had in Kayettes since I've been here. It has been a pleasure working with this year's officers and board members." (Peggy Tholen, sponsor.)

"Today for tomorrow" is the motto for the Kayette club. The members build on today for the future of tomorrow. Leading the club this year was Cheryl French, who served as president.

The year began in August when Toni Drummet, Cheryl French, Jackie Shellhorn, and Ina Wiper attended leadership camp at Junction City to gain new ideas. They had a picnic for their membership drive in September. They roasted marshmallows, played games and initiated new council members. Claire Casselman was the guest speaker. The Junior High Kayettes also attended.

On October 29, eight girls went to Regional Conference at Yares Center. Jackie Shellhorn was elected to serve as senior area president for region two and Peggy Tholen was elected as sponsor.

There were many projects during the year as they were trying for the 3,000 point award. The first semester they sponsored a Save-a-gallon program to try to get the students not to drive around at noon. They had stuff-a-bug contest, turkey decorating contest, and obstacle courses for some of the entertainment.

During Kay Kayette week they gave a cupcake to every member of the student body and faculty, made and gave stockings to the hospital for the babies born in December, and collected paper back books for a girls school in Africa. Many cookies were made and many hours were spent planning projects to do.

"I didn't really know how much work it took to be president." (Cheryl French '80)

"It's a lot of fun and work but in the long run it's worth it to see the achievements we've made during the year." (Jackie Shellhorn, '81)

International Members Enjoy Their Christmas Party

For the first International's meeting of the year they sponsored Sam Imafadu who spoke on his homeland, Nigeria. Meetings were held during club schedule at school for the first time this year. In October they sold candy bars for their money-making project. The Christmas party was held at Rhonda Masher's house on December 18. The group enjoyed the movie "Almost Summer" and after refreshments were served, they broke two pinatas to end the evening. Later in the year they took a trip to Kansas City. There, they attended a foreign culture event and ate at a foreign restaurant.

N.H.S. Makes The Grade

National Honor Society is an organization of students who are in the top percentage of their class and are elected by their teachers. They are elected at two different times of the year. Once, in the spring, when they are juniors and have to be in the top five percent of their class and then again in the fall, when they are seniors and have to be in the top 15 percent of their class.

They are an honorary group rather than a social or service group. In the spring each year they take a trip and usually have a dinner. Their sponsors are Ethel Rugg and Phyllis Cobbs.

It is great to be associated with a group of high-achieving students. It is an interesting group. Physics classes were National Honor Society is more than the honor society. It is a group of students who are in the top five percent of their class and are elected by their teachers. It is a group of students who are in the top five percent of their class and are elected by their teachers.

This year's new members student had to be in the top five percent of their class and were elected by their teachers. At the end of the year members bombed them with rice.

STUCO Projects Include Youth Advisory Council

The student council this year led by Brad Umbarger, president, sponsored many events and started some new very worthwhile organizations.

As in past years, they sponsored the Homecoming dance and the mixer held at the beginning of the school year. They also sponsored the concession stand at the boys varsity sports.

Mark Rickabaugh, vice president, attended Stuco camp during the summer. At camp they were put into groups and formed imaginary schools. Each group underwent and had to deal with some of the problems real high schools are faced with. They also listened to many speakers and ended up with a dance.

Regional workshops were also attended by some of the students.

"The bridge between the students and the cooks . . ." (Dave Lybarger '83) is how the newly started organization YAC (Youth Advisory Council) is usually referred to as well as what it is based upon. All year prizes, including money and free lunches were given away.

Debarers Have Rebuilding Year

This year's debate squad was inexperienced with the exception of two seniors, Kathy Dudney and Arlene Shellhorn. With a new coach came a different format in the classroom than had been in previous years. For example, classroom debates were held several times throughout the semester to help the students improve their debating skills.

According to Ms. Feuerborn, debate teacher and coach, "This year was a rebuilding year and the students spent time the students worked very hard

The debate squad participated in two debates this year at Bishop-Merige and Girard. They did very well considering the competition that they were up against.

Next year should be a more productive year because there will be several students returning. Several of the students felt that debate was a very worthwhile course, especially if you plan to go to college.

Spirit Club — New And Different

It's super to see more students active in Spirit Club and supporting the team (Anita Dennis, sponsor)

The changes between the old Pe. Club and the new Spirit Club were tremendous, according to member. For the first time boys were allowed to join. Membership increased a lot too, due to this. The T-shirts that were worn to the games and game days, added to the spirit around school also.

They participated in many activities which the club sponsored, such as the Homecoming activities, like the hall decorations, decorating downtown windows, breakfast for the sports persons, and break-through signs. Other activities included starting to have concession stands at the wrestling and girls basketball games.

They had a few guest speakers, including both Mike Casteel and Jim Kent. They talked on different ideas they had for improving Spirit Club.

The dues this year were $2. Right before basketball season they reopened membership and several more people joined.

For the first time they sponsored games during basketball season where parents, the band, cheerleaders, and coaches were honored. They were given either a bottle of Dads Root Beer or a corsage. Then on different occasions records and other prizes were given to students at different games.

It gives the boys a chance to back the teams and it has a more relaxed atmosphere than Pe. Club did. (Dierker, '80)

Art Club Sets Goals

Even though Art club has only been in existence two years, they have kept very busy. To join Art club you had to have had Art sometime during high school.

They made money by selling candy and selling artwork downtown. Their major goal was to go to Silver Dollar City, which they did. They had a skating party around Christmas time and visited art galleries and museums. They also bought T-shirts for members to wear.

Mary Huertenmueller came and talked on painting and Elmon Veivids on interior carving.

"I would like everyone to know that we have an Art club and to respect Miss Bredehoff for making it what it is." (Annette Warr '81)

Hi-Y Helps When Needed

Hi-Y may not have a lot of members but they make up for it in enthusiasm. Many of the members participated at the popcorn machine at the variety basketball and football games. They had projects concerning the community such as giving contributions for the retarded citizens. They also had special guest speakers for their monthly meetings. Carroll Schulte spoke on insurance and how poor driving can effect it. Robert Koonitz spoke on his "Adventures and Amrudes" class. All in all Hi-Y had a very successful year. "We have had some really interesting programs this year." (Collin Hermreck, '80)

Cheerleaders Ignite Enthusiasm

The cheerleaders, buoyed by their own and enthusiasm, are greatly appreciated especially by the teams they cheer for. "We cheerleaders do it for the teams we cheer for, doing it for the teams we cheer for, they appreciate it" (Robin Dr. Miller, '81).

Being a cheerleader helped me understand and appreciate the hard work that goes into the various sports" (Jill Cooper, '80).

Many things have been changed or have been added this year. Each cheerleader is given a medal and a certificate. This year the school gave the money to help pay for the uniforms and letters. All the cheerleaders have the outfit alike. They picked the colors from each sport when all was over. I really enjoy cheering and feel

Frosh Cheerleaders Spirited

As many people know, not very many people go to the freshman sport events. But they also realize that there are always at least six spirit boosters to cheer on the team, the freshman cheerleaders.

After moving from junior high to high school, these cheerleaders noticed a lot of differences. "The spirit is a lot less in high school than in junior high" (Ricki Drummel, '83).

The squad is supported by themselves. They have no moneymaking projects nor does the school provide money for their uniforms. "I use my own money or my parents help pay for it Usually I buy it" (Karen Gibson, '83).

These cheerleaders put out a lot of work and they have learned from it. "Responsibility, cooperation, and to get along with others is important" (Ricki Drummel, '83).

"I've learned to cooperate and work as a team" (Nancy Miller, '83).

In regard to the future, these enthusiasts hope for more spirit. "I would like to see more people come to the games" (Lynn Singer, '83).

"I hope in future years we can get the spirit back that we once had" (Ricki Drummel, '83).

Bulldogs Suffer Winless Season

The Bulldogs, though returning lettermen, suffered a 0-9 season this year.

The biggest problem for the team was the lack of a permanent coaching staff and new head coach Armin Landis was the lack of experience. Only 24 players made the team. Coach Landis credited the low number of players to late practice, disinterest of players live from school, outside of school and apathy. Along with this problem, the Bulldogs had to face some very strong competition such as 5A Blue Valley, 4A Pioneer and Pioneer league winner DeSmet.

Outside of suffering a poor season, the football program gained the experience of three freshmen.

David Lybarger, a senior, was the only player who was a starter for the season and Joe Fritz who was the first player to start for the team. The team's schedule was not the best and this was the reason for the next year's team.

And reflecting on the season, Landis commented, "We were not prepared for the Blue Valley game. We were not prepared for the Blue Valley game. We were not prepared for the Blue Valley game."

With the lack of experience, we were close to losing the game.

Mr. Landis also expressed, "Had our crowd been overflowing every game, the team would certainly have felt more pressure to perform well."

Three members of the team were awarded all-league honors this year. Honors went to Kirk Gulick, first team linebacker and honorable mention running back, Darren Cramer, honorable mention punter, and Larry Sabba, honorable mention safety. Assisting Armin Landis in the coaching department were Jim Kuhn and Mike Casteel.

Gardner, however, did not win any of his games this year but could never claim a victory.

Coach Glenn Suderman explained that the freshmen played some very good football for several quarters but not for a complete game.

Injuries hurt us and the quarterback position was unstable for most of the season."

Along with this Mr. Suderman commented, "Gardner was our best performance in a 25-12 defeat. We played them even in yards rushing and passing, but not in scoring. I felt we played well in the second half of the Paoia game as well."

He also felt that several players would be beneficial to the varsity program next year.

Sharing the job of coaching the freshmen this year was Kerry Ryman, who began last year.

Mr. Suderman expressed doubt of a freshmen program next year but rather a combined junior varsity team made up of freshmen and sophomores.

Shannon Stephens and Cheryl French were chosen first team all-league players. Mitch Craig was chosen second team all-league player. The team elected Cheryl French team captain and Coach Donna Kimmell named Mitch Craig as the most improved player.

"The girls had a pretty up and down season. It was a rough one, but it was very frustrating. The girls played well in the game and terrible the next. There were a lot of good times, jokes and lost sleep on some of the long bus rides. I think the best game all year was at regionals when we lost the third game of the match 16-18." Boys CC Upholds Tradition By Making State

Garnett's Varsity Boys Cross Country team began the '79 season with some slow starts but managed to finish with some outstanding showings.

The Bulldogs ended the year with a twelfth place finish at the state meet after qualifying with a third place, regional placing.

The team competed in many meets usually coming away with fourth or fifth place finishes.

Garnett once again hosted the Pioneer League meet, but the Bulldogs were unable to capture their tenth straight league title.

In this rebuilding season for GHS, the varsity team members, in the latter part of the year, consisted of freshmen Donnie Carey and Mike Hammon; sophomores Jim Mersman, Rod Adkins, Jeff Kueser; and seniors Kenny Lickteig and Trey Scheuermann.

C Coach Jerry Howarter evaluated the Bulldog's season by saying, "We were not discouraged with the year we had. We felt like we improved every meet along with only having two seniors on the team."

At the Fall Sports Banquet, Mike Hammon, freshman, was named the Most Improved Runner for the year.

"The junior varsity was strong this year and should be strong or stronger next year considering the young talent that should be coming back," commented Coach Jerry Howarter.

Outside of winning first at league the team also won first at Eureka and Osawatomie took second at Gardner and came in third at Tonganoxie.

The team consisted of several freshmen throughout the year. At the league contest three of the top five finishers for the Bulldogs were freshmen.

Coach Howarter expressed that he hopes many will come out for the '80 season.

Freshman Cross Country

Freshman CC Strong In '79

This years freshman cross country team enjoyed a very successful season record with a number of first place finishes.

"This was the strongest freshman team GHS has had in a long time," believes Coach Howarter.

The freshman not only won first at many meets but gained experience in running junior varsity or times.

Donnie Carey and Mike Hammon managed to accomplish a feat no other CC member has done by running at the Varsity level.

In running a time of 11:02, Carey and Hammon moved into the fourth and fifth spots on the all-time five best frosh times list at Garnett High School.

Girls Tee Off At State

For the third consecutive year, the girls' golf team journeyed to State. As in previous years, the girls have not done as well as planned. But considering the competition, they have still done remarkably well, as they placed ninth in the meet.

The team consisted of three seniors, one junior, two sophomores, and four freshmen. It has plenty to build on in the future years. "There is always a lot to learn" (Robin Drummel, '81).

With no other schools in our league they usually played schools bigger or with more experience than they have.

When asked what she liked best about the season, Carla Schulte, '84, said the team spirit of the coach and my team mates.

Coach Roy Meyers said, "The girls come along very well and greatly improved by the end of the season."

Varsity Bulldogs Undergo Frustrating Season

"This years varsity basketball season could best be described as a season of bitter disappointment, coupled with a bright hope for the future," commented Coach Mike Casreel of the Bulldogs season.

Though the Bulldogs suffered many losses, they managed to come out victorious over Gardner and twice over Lansing, one a 52-45 double overtime thriller.

As Casreel commented, "This year was filled with near misses as the [redacted] by two [redacted] we [redacted] val and

[illegible]

Lauren Cramer was third in league scoring percentages with 18.4 points per game and sixth in rebounds with 7.4 per game, while John Thorp was tied with two others for the most rebounds.

Throughout the season players including sophomore Ed Cox saw action for the Bulldogs. And as emphasized, "The varsity was comprised of several juniors who will be returning for next year's campaign."

Boys Junior Varsity Basketball

JV Capture Long-Awaited League Title

Strong determination and effective team ball enabled the junior varsity basketball team to reign this season as the Pioneer League champions.

With a league record of 9-1 Coach Jim Kuhn stated that the team played excellent defense and ran their zone press very well, all contributing to the excellent season.

This was also the finest season Coach Kuhn has experienced in the three years he has coached the junior varsity at Garnett.

Two setbacks the Bulldogs did suffer this season were the two losses in the Osawatomie tourney to Blue Valley and Osawatomie.

But the team came back the next week exhibiting their fine defense and scoring abilities by winning five straight games—three of them by large margins: 68-42, 54-39 and 60-34.

Highlighted in this long stretch of wins was an exciting win over former-league leader, Paola, who had defeated GHS earlier in the season: 52-38.

Girls Varsity Basketball

Girls Shoot For Victories

Paul Windsor, girls varsity coach, helps plan strategy for the following game

The varsity girls basketball team had a successful season this past year with a record of 12-3. They ended their season with a victory over the best basketball team in the area. "I liked winning games this season about the best. Also I felt that the team got along well, which helps very much in working as a team and winning games." (Courtney Hermreck, '83)

The girls worked hard for their record. Practices which were hard and team spirit and teamwork during the games, were elements in their success. "Good hard working practices is what is needed and that is what we have. We have three on two verses the coaches, which is fun. Practice is alright

Laurinda Rockers, '80)

The girls ordered team t-shirts to wear on game days. They helped boost the spirits of the team. They also helped other people know that they were proud to be members, managers, or stat people of the team. "I liked the team because we stand out in the crowd and every one knows we are the Lady Bulldogs." (Lisa Drummel, '82)

With only three seniors on the team, the Lady Bulldogs have high hopes for the future. They are hoping for a successful season next year. "So far we have had a good season this year and hope that we will do as well next year." (Lisa Drummel, '82)

Girls Junior Varsity Basketball

JV. Shows Enthusiasm And Skill

The junior varsity girls basketball squad was a young team this year, but this did not seem to hinder the girls playing, let alone their winning. According to Coach Ryman, "The success of the team is a result of the girls enthusiasm and attitude reflected, as a result, by their desire to hustle, and their ability to work together."

The leadership of the seniors helped the team in experience and even though the majority of the team was young they played extremely well, both as a team and as individuals. Coach Ryman said, "I am especially pleased with the improvement the squad has shown since the beginning of the season. These qualities should strengthen and provide good future basketball seasons for the Lady Bulldogs."

The team exhibited several good points during the year, one being their ability to play good defense during the games. The team also showed good spirit and attitudes throughout the season, whether winning or losing. Next years varsity squad has the possibility of being one of the best ones yet!

The game is stopped and the team awaits the decision.

Freshman Basketball

Jeff Cox cars another point or the charity stripe to lead the Bullpups over Osawatomie

"The team showed steady improvement during the entire season," stated coach Armin Landis in evaluating the Bullpups season. Our first game against Blue Valley showed us how good a freshman team could be. Our goal was to become competitive with all teams and I think we did that as we finished the season by winning our last four games in a row.

Garnett opened the 1979-80 season with a tragic loss to Blue Valley, 70-29, both won and lost in the middle part of the season, and then came on strong to capture victories in their final four outings.

The Bullpups finished with an overall record of 7-5, and managed to collect a 4-4 league record for a probable fourth place finish.

The team, consisting of 15 players practiced each day from 2:30 to 4:00 p.m. in order to prepare for such wins as the exciting 44-42 victory over Osawatomie and a 62-59 victory over Central Heights.

Such wins posted by the freshman were backed by the high scoring and rebounding of Jeff Cox, who led the Bullpups in both departments with several points and rebounds. Rodney Honn followed Cox in both categories, rallying points and pulling down car-ems.

Many of the players saw a considerable amount of action and should be prepared for the junior varsity team for next year.

Junior Varsity Wrestling

JV Acquires First-Hand Experience

As the prospects of the coming years, the junior varsity wrestling team was extremely well this year. Many of the wrestlers who started out wrestling junior varsity eventually ended up wrestling varsity.

Wrestling is a great sport that is rough and tough, and it is a hard game. Jim Merritt, 82.

And endurance is a good word to describe wrestling. Along with the rules, gripes, and the way while in training, the wrestlers have to be constantly aware of the weight. A mistake is to be over a mere ounce and they can't wrestle.

But for this year's team, the hard work has been paid off. They really appreciated the many victories from the team after winning the wrestling matches. The team was very thoughtful. Cheryl, 82, is English.

The Administration — New And Changing

Administrators and secretaries do much to keep the school operating smoothly.

Keeping a watchful eye out for the schools in USD 365 is the main job of Board of Education. Members agree on policies that they think are good for the schools. They plan ahead for coming years, reviewing, and approving policies. The board meets the first Monday of each month.

Kenneth C. Young is the superintendent of the district.

The principal of the high school always has one of the most noticeable jobs. This year a new man came to GHS and helped update and condense old policies. Before coming to GHS Charles Mansfield was principal at Cheeney, Kansas for four years. He has a Bachelor of Arts from Baker University and a Master of Science from Kansas University.

James M. Kent is in his second year as vice principal at GHS. He has a Bachelor of Science from Kansas University and a Masters from Central Mississippi State.

Besides keeping the school running smoothly, the administrators also enjoy good times. This year they sponsored a mystery student contest during the week of Halloween. Each day clues to the mystery student were given over the morning announcements. To encourage students to make a guess, a dinner at Pizza Hut was to be awarded to the winner.

Ellen Adler ('82) was the winner of the contest. The clues were ascensor (elevator), senorita, (senior girl), 2691 three cubed-octagon (August eight month, 27, 1962), Big Mac (Canadian Mac), the man she works with at Century 21, and Narlayirmen (the scrambled letters of her name — Myra Anne Miller).

Also this year the principals put together and distributed a student handbook which lists policies, calendar, etc. so that students can easily understand the workings of the school.

Secretaries Help School Run Smoothly

The secretaries help keep the school running smoothly. They do many general office-type duties such as typing, running off copies of different papers for teachers, organizing and recording grades, and checking class attendance.

Mr. Mansfield takes a break to relax in the library.

cation as a stepping stone job, and in college to type paper (Melvin Bauck, business) The importance of business in everyday life has increased the number in this area. Mr. Bauck has at least 27 in each of his typing classes.

Melvin Bauck has a Bachelor of Science and a Business Master in education from Emporia State University. He teaches Typing I and II, and sponsors Hi Y and the freshman class. This year typing was open to sophomores for the first time.

John Denton has a Bachelor of Science from Emporia State University. He spends his morning hours teaching record keeping, accounting, general business, and business law. His afternoon hours are spent as athletic director.

I took business course to learn more about the profession and what you are getting into if you do it for a career (Nancy Naylor, '80).

We Keep Adding On This Year

The math department this year gained a new person to their staff to replace Parry Barr. Jim Briggs went to the Kansas University and got a Bachelor of Science. He teaches Algebra I and general math.

Department chairman Peggy Tholen teaches Algebra I, and advanced math, and is sponsor of Kayettes. She acquired a Bachelor of Science at Emporia State University. She is sponsored "The Save-A-Gallon Weekly," a Kayette program and the Math Relays at Emporia, October 31.

"What I enjoy most about math is Mrs. Tholen's sense of humor." (Judy Guilfoyle, '80)

"Calculators are being provided for the first time in the math department." (Kerry Ryman, math)

"I think the calculators are great!" (Mike Sabba, '80) Both Kerry Ryman and Mrs. Tholen bought some for their classes. He teaches career math, developmental math, and geometry and is a sponsor of the sophomore class and assistant coach for girls basketball and freshman football. He said that he was lucky enough to get new books for his geometry and career math classes. He had some outside speakers for his classes. He has a Bachelor of Science and a Master of Science, both from Pittsburg State University.

Projects Show Much Creativeness

This area is highly diversified, it covers drivers education, industrial arts, fine arts, and vocational agriculture.

Glen Suderman teaches drivers education and weight training. He has a Bachelor of Science Degree from Kansas State University. Mr. Suderman coaches freshman football, wrestling, and freshman track.

This year a new award will be presented to the person with the best wood shop project. The woodworking classes made props for the all-school play this year as a special project. Jerry Howarter has a Bachelor of Science Degree in industrial education and a Master of Science Degree. He graduated from Emporia State University. Mr. Howarter is also the cross country coach.

Mechanical drawing and arts and crafts are taught by Elmon Velvick. In the fall his arts and crafts students work with leather and in the spring they make plastic projects. Mr. Velvick has a Bachelor of Arts Degree from Peru State College, Nebraska, and a Master of Science Degree from Emporia State University.

Painting a mural at the Parkview Estates was a project by the Art I and Art II students. Lois Bredenoft emphasizes quality in the work turned out as well as the originality or creativeness of the work. "Art gives me a chance to express myself." (John Scott, '80) Miss Bredenoft graduated from Pittsburg State University with a Bachelor of Science Degree in art education. She sponsors the Art Club and Kayerres.

Land judging, Parliamentary procedure and livestock judging are just a few of the areas of vocational agriculture class study. In shop, students make projects like stock trailers and hog sheds. Sam Harris teaches vocational agriculture and sponsors FFA. He has a Bachelor of Science in vocational agriculture from Kansas State University.

Cooking And Sewing Go Hand In Hand

In home economics this year they did a lot of new and different things.

"I feel like my classes will prepare the students to be better homemakers (Mary Anderson, home economics)

They remodeled the kitchen by repainting the cupboards and walls and by making new curtains and also got four new sewing machines and lots of cooking equipment.

Department chairman Mary Anderson teaches units of advanced clothing, child care, and family living for her junior and senior classes along with Home Economics I and II.

"I enjoy learning about little kids and ways to make them grow physically as well as mentally" (Cheryl French, '80)

Mrs. Anderson had outside speakers for her classes who included Tom Bares, child abuse, Carol Bauck, infant care, Ann Humbert, preparing parents for childbirth and care, and Clara Rockers, fall and winter fashions and selecting materials. She also had panels of parents and students. She acquired her Bachelor of Science from Pittsburg State University and graduate hours from Kansas and Emporia State Universities. She sponsors FHA and senior class.

"I enjoy the different meals we cook" (Kristie Toomey, '80).

Jayne Miller teaches units of international foods, bakery and the home along with Home Economics I and II. She got some new books for the home classes and she had field trips to Dauman's, Galey's Processing Plant, and the Garnett Cheese Factory. Some of the classes put on a nutrition skit for the grade school kids. There were also panels of parents who were asked questions on dating and special relationships. An other outside speaker was Mrs. Droce from the clinic. The bakery this year added yeast breads to their menus. The international foods classes got to break a pinata when they were studying Mexico. She has a Bachelor of Science that she got from Kansas State University.

Keeping Fit Is Our Thing This Year

Physical fitness has become popular in America, so what better place to start than in high school? "Any type of physical activity helps a person keep healthy and in shape" (Gloria Neal, '80) In girls physical education they learned about modern and exercise dances, volleyball, football and golfing, and also archery.

"The exercise makes our lives more enjoyable" (Arlene Shelhorn, '80) Boys physical education classes have learned how to juggle, weight lifting, tumbling, kickback, and horseshoes.

The physical education department purchased films on how to give first aid in a disaster, and new volleyballs, bows, targets, and rockers. Mrs. Broce from the Garnett clinic spoke to the girls advanced physical education classes.

Donna Kimmell received her Bachelor of Science from Emporia State University. She teaches girls P.E. I, II, and advanced girls physical education. She coaches girls track and volleyball.

Raymond Meyer received his Bachelor of Science from Emporia State University and a Master of Science from Illinois State University. He also had graduate hours from Colorado and Kansas State Universities. He teaches boys P.E. I, II, and advanced boys physical education. He coaches intramurals, girls, and boys golf.

Dena Ellis punts the football long and far.

Students Saying 'Bonjour Mes Amis'

Bonjour mes amis. Most of the students in school wouldn't know what this meant unless they were enrolled in French class.

I took it because I thought it would be fun to learn another language.

Diane Buchanan, 81. Most students take a foreign language class because they want to learn another language.

Among the many benefits of foreign language classes are the field trips to Mexico and France. The French class also attended the Concours de Français at Wichita State University.

Anita L. Dennis, received a Bachelor's of Arts degree from Kansas University and a Degree Superior from the University of Paris. Miss Dennis teaches French and all the students love her. She is a very friendly, kind, and patient teacher. The students love her and cheer for her in the French class and also Internationals. Ms. Dennis spent six weeks in California brushing up on new teaching techniques. During those six weeks she spoke nothing but French.

Jane Cuthbert received her Bachelor of Science from William Jewell College. She teaches sociology and Spanish and sponsors the Junior High International and Spirit Club.

History Class Predicts Election

The Civil War and "Adventures in Attitudes" is what the history students have been studying this year. Mr. Koonrz's classes started out the year by getting into groups and presenting a topic of their choice to the class. "Adventures in Attitudes" was started and students said that they enjoyed it.

Bob Conklin, nationally known lecturer, author of books on motivation, self development and personality, teacher and successful business executive is the originator of "Adventures in Attitudes". A booklet about the course reads "Arouse the sleeping greatness within, set aside fears, worries, doubts, boredom, and negative thoughts! Start becoming what you are capable of becoming."

Mr. Landis also taught history this year his first at GHS. His class included field trips to the state capital and county courthouse during the year. They also worked with exhibits from students, and slides from past travels. He especially enjoys using simulation games to create innovative ideas. The American Government class is using the newspaper as a source the past few months on more political topics. In geography class, which he also taught, they did much map work.

"I love history, I always have, it gives me a chance to express my opinion, thoughts, and feelings on experiences which occurred before I was even thought of." (Mary Mayes, '81)

at Central Michigan University. He teaches United States History, world history, international relations, and is head wrestling coach and assistant track coach.

Armin W. Landis has a Bachelor of Science in education. He teaches American Government and world geography. He is the head coach for the varsity football and head coach for freshman basketball.

"We will complete a survey of American politics from 1960 to the present and study the 1976 and 1980 elections in depth. Then we will include election procedures including the primaries and conventions, campaign techniques, the issues, the candidates, and in the end we will predict the eventual outcome of the coming Presidential race." (Mike Casreel, history)

Band Is Playing To A Different Tune

For the second year in succession the band has used corps style marching which is a marching technique used by drum and bugle corps. The concept presents inspired designs to the music itself performing directly to the audience in stead of the end zones. smooth fluid movements and verbal commands in stead of whistle commands.

The flag corps adds to the band show with accents to the music and to add visual aspects to the show. Nancy Naylor, drum majorette, Toni Brummel, lieutenant; and Marilyn Lidstreg, captain of the flag corps attended camps this summer to learn new techniques.

"Many hours of work go into each performance. The rehearsals, a lot of them in the summer, often take a lot of energy and physical stamina, and the ability to brave nature's elements" (Chris Cruz, band director).

This year for the first time the band had the opportunity to be judged in street marching and on a presentation of an eight minute half time show in the Neewollah parade and marching contest in Independence, Kansas.

This year the band purchased a Temporal acuity product. It reaches rhythm and it helps to develop hand-eye coordination vital to performance and to all musical instruments. The flag corps also purchased new flags, flag poles, and uniforms.

The band attended the Kansas University band day, Symphony of Winds league, and state band festivals.

Choir Sings Harmoniously Together

Appearing in their traditional red and white choir outfits, the choir performed three concerts: fall, winter, and spring and for the first time video taped their entire Christmas concert for television.

This year fifteen students tried out for state and district choir. Students were Harry Funk, and Greg Reesor, basses; Dan Schulte and Larry Heims, tenors, and Teresa Massey, soprano. Most of those who tried out for district choir made it. Mr. Massey was really proud of the people who made state and district choirs.

For the first time this year, freshmen were able to attend state and district tryouts.

This year the Generation Singers have added some new looks and talents. Much choreography was used to inhance their performances. As is tradition, the group has new outfits. The guys are wearing oyster-colored pants and vests with purple shirts and the girls are wearing marching dresses of the same material as the boys' shirts.

For the first time they have been invited and participated in a few small ensemble performances. One, at Coffeyville, was mass group choreography and Generation combined with several other small groups for a mass concert.

Sixteen Junior Varsity singers changed their name to Future Generation Singers and also used choreography in their performances. There was also a freshman quartet that performed this year.

English Program Adds New Mini-Courses

The language Arts program is designed to give students an opportunity to choose from a number of mini-courses or electives formed from the area of language arts. The language arts department expects each student to have taken the following courses by the time he has finished his senior year: two quarters of American Literature, one quarter of English Literature, one quarter of composition (other than basic composition taken the first nine weeks), one quarter of Language Study and seven quarters of other language arts. Every student is encouraged to take at least one course of speech/drama.

The first nine weeks is always basic grammar for all four levels. "I emphasize correct grammar usage rather than identifying parts of speech" (Mrs. Rasmussen, English).

Starting with the sophomore year the second, third and last nine weeks, students enroll in different mini-courses. Students expressed their opinions about these. "It is a really good way for people to get a chance to study what they want to. I think they are better because it gives you some variety" (Eileen Wolken, '80). This seemed to be very important to most students.

One highly recommended yearly course for college-bound students is AP English. "This course is a challenge and requires a great deal of writing" (Mrs. McDonald, English). Anyone who does well has a good recommendation for him throughout their college career. Just having the class on the high school transcript means something.

"English is very important, one can't utter a word or write without English. In fact, people can't speak or write properly without it." (Mrs. McDonald, English).

An entirely new mini-course was developed this year, "How to Study," by Mrs. Rasmussen. It will only be offered the last nine weeks but it should be an extremely valuable course to take. It will go into specifics on how to use time wisely in order to be able to study more efficiently. One part of this course will be for the students to improve in one of their classes by using what they learn in class.

Other new elective and mini-courses were the 20's and 30's, Shakespeare, Mythology, and Symbols and Illusion.

Jane Feuerborn has a Bachelor of Arts in drama and English at Saint Mary College, Leavenworth, Kansas. Miss Feuerborn was the director of the all school play and musical. She teaches debate/forensics, English II and English III, speech and drama. An addition to forensics this year was children's theatre.

Elizabeth McDonald teaches English IV and electives such as English Literature, Short Story, U.S. Literature and A.P. English.

Marilyn Rasmussen has a Bachelor of Science in education at Northwest Missouri State University at Kansas City. She teaches English I, III, IV, and is the sponsor for the freshman cheerleaders.

Jim Kuhn has a Bachelor of Science in Education at Fort Hayes and a minor in English. He is the assistant coach in both football and boys basketball.

Cheryl Studna has a Bachelor of Arts in education, from Kansas University. She teaches English II and mini-courses: creative writing, science fiction and mystery. She is also director of the yearbook and newspaper.

Shirley Windsor has a Bachelor of Arts at Wichita State University. She has graduate hours from Emporia and Pittsburg Universities. She is junior sponsor and is in charge of the prom.

Paper Gets New Name — "BULLDOG BANNER"

The newspaper has changed considerably this year. These changes include new informative headlines, guide lines for each page, more informative features editorials, and pictures. And, cartoons will be contained on the opinion page. News briefs have different headlines entitled "Special Notes." A top writer award will be given for each paper in order to help improve the stories written.

Another update was a change of the flag or name of the paper. Formerly, it was the GHS TIMES which had been the paper's name since it was started. But this year a new flag was chosen through a contest. Mary Jo Peterson, freshman, came up with the winning suggestion, THE BULLDOG BANNER. It was chosen from a list of entries and first used in the third issue of the paper. Mary Jo received a free subscription for the rest of the year.

Staff member Rhonda Masheter, Collin Hermreck, and Denise Platt, along with Cheryl Studna, advisor, attended a newspaper workshop at Bethany College, Linsborg, Kansas this summer. The purpose was to have the paper evaluated and learn how to put out a better newspaper. "I learned some helpful tips and learned from the constructive criticism of our paper" (Denise Platt, '80). Most of the students also attended a workshop at KU and the Regional Kansas Journalism Contest in February at Lawrence.

"Top Reporter Award" was started this year and selected for each newspaper. It goes to the person or persons having written the best story which must be well written, creative, and need few corrections. Each winner receives a certificate for that issue. And at the end of the year, the person with the most awards will have their name engraved on a plaque and will also receive a special award. The purpose of all of this is to get reporters to use journalistic style, and grammatic rules correctly, and improve creativeness of the story. This helps in regard to time, because there is less time spent correcting and rewriting stories. It also gives some recognition to the best writers.

Many Long Hours Produces A Yearbook

In yearbook this year we did a lot of new and different things

"I took this class because I enjoy writing" (Jackie Shelhorn, '81)

"You learn new things when writing stories" (David Patton, '80)

We started out our busy year with some of us going to yearbook camp at Berhany College in Lindsborg, Kansas. This was the year for the yearbook camp for us, with expert help and suggestions for planning yearbooks and taking pictures. The whole class went to Ottawa and attended another yearbook workshop that was sponsored by American Yearbook Company. We also visited the Topeka plant that prints our books.

Along with the fun times there are the hard-working times.

"I enjoy working with the students. It is a lot of work, but really enjoyable and more fun than a traditional classroom" (Cheryl Studna, advisor)

There were times we had to stay after school or come in early to get everything done before deadlines.

"I think the staff is capable of putting out an even better yearbook, the only problem is the lack of time" (Patti Longhofer, '81)

"Deadlines make you feel like you are about to have a heart attack, but your body won't cooperate or relieve you" (Angie Karzer, '80)

We had a lot of new changes and creative ideas that we put to use. For the first time in years we have colored end sheets and also have captions, headlines and copy in the student life section.

We also have a new yearbook company. We have been with Taylor for many years but this year changed to American. Don Marhers, a representative from American, has been very helpful to us in putting our book together.

The yearbook featured an academic section, which has not been done for a long time at GHS. It included candid photos of teachers and students involved in class work. A different style of cover had been selected, although it was kept the traditional red and white. Layouts were changed to three column and include lots of pictures. We also featured quotations from students and teachers and used Formar type and borders to tie the sections together.

A Time For ... Thank You's

Putting together a yearbook takes much time and dedication and also a lot of help, so we (the members of the yearbook staff) would like to take this time and space to thank the following people and/or companies, for helping us to put together the 1980 GHS Bulldog.

The Josten's American Yearbook Company, for putting together the book and helping us. Edna M. Harris, for the cover picture. We would like to thank the following people for helping us to put together the 1980 GHS Bulldog. We would like to thank the following people for helping us to put together the 1980 GHS Bulldog. We would like to thank the following people for helping us to put together the 1980 GHS Bulldog.

Company for setting a few lines for ads and helping with some pictures — (Thanks, Jim Bloom.) Also in the art department, thanks goes to John Scott for doing the Bulldog and 1980 for the cover and divisionals and to Sharla Eichman for contributing a poem on Bill Likes which was used in the dedication copy.

We also thank Mrs. Studna for advertising the book and a magazine with her ideas and help. We would like to thank the following people for helping us to put together the 1980 GHS Bulldog. We would like to thank the following people for helping us to put together the 1980 GHS Bulldog. We would like to thank the following people for helping us to put together the 1980 GHS Bulldog.

us in producing this yearbook are the students, faculty, and employees of Garnett High School who helped us in gathering the information used in this book, Wright's Studios, Ottawa, for taking our group pictures, The Photographer (Sam Raines) Ltd., for helping our photographers and all the companies and businesses who bought ads.

Many people help produce a yearbook and if anyone has been omitted, we thank you also. Once again the entire yearbook staff says THANK YOU.

1980 - The Start Of A New Decade

1980 begins a new decade and is a year to remember. Stemming from 1979 are some major world situations that caused turmoil, grief, and confusion.

The turmoil started with the Iran Crisis which took place when angry militant Iranian students bombarded the U.S. Embassy in Tehran, taking 50 Americans hostage. This incident resulted from the U.S. giving asylum to the Shah who had supposedly stolen millions of dollars from the Iranian government. The students wanted to exchange the American hostages for the return of the Shah. President Carter's reaction was one of non-violence and compromise, yet the hostages had been held over 100 days by the end of February. Incumbent Jimmie Carter was followed closely at the beginning of the Presidential race by Senator Edward Kennedy but the gap widened as the race went on. Some felt that Senator Kennedy was too radical to hold office. He dropped in the polls in every primary that was held, especially after the Iran crisis. Another question that aroused a lot of controversy was the Soviet invasion of Afghanistan.

Soviet troops took over Afghanistan in December to supposedly help stabilize the Afghan government. The invasion caused confusion about whether or not the Soviets would invade any other countries. As a result, President Carter called for the registration of all 18-year-olds under the Selective Service Plan.

The main issue of the registration was whether or not to register women. If the women were drafted they would probably not have to fight in combat.

Another problem that arose from Afghanistan was the proposed boycott by the U.S. of the Summer Olympics, to be held in Moscow, unless Soviet troops withdraw from the country.

However, the proposed boycott of the Summer Olympics did not dampen the spirit of the Winter Games which were held in the U.S. for the first time since 1932. They were held in the tiny village of Lake Placid, New York, where they were also held in 1932. The games were filled with excitement as Eric Heiden of the U.S. tried for an unprecedented five gold medals in speed skating.

Many alterations also took place in the U.S. economy and medical fields. The gas lines grew ever longer in California, while rising to over a dollar in Kansas. Test Tube Baby clinics were being set up in Arizona. Fads took on a new look as dogs, hiking boots, argie socks, curly hair, barettes, combs, and ski vests came into style. All the changes are affecting high schoolers now and will affect them even more in the future. Following are some senior's opinions on the registration for the Selective Service.

"If women get drafted I feel they should go, but I don't really want to go." (Rhonda Masheter, '80)

"I don't feel women should be drafted at all." (Judy Mowar, '80)

Test tube baby clinics made their appearance during the year over the U.S.

Gas prices soared to over a dollar. In many states there was rationing and gas lines were formed.

Some of the fads this year were dogs, argie socks, hiking boots, t-shirts and vests. Our shirts they were a common sight around school.

Seniors Time Is Getting Near

'We've always been a strong class but we've always been really close' (Rona Brummer '80)

The seniors this year upheld the tradition of being leaders as many served as club presidents and officers. They also showed their willingness to win by leading their teams in school spirit. Many fond memories were shared on the playing field and in organizational meetings.

Near the end of the year they ordered caps and gowns and in November they ordered announcements. The seniors who will be voting this year had the opportunity to listen to the attorney general and secretary of state.

On April 28, 1979 they put on the junior-senior prom. Their theme was "Dust in the Wind" with the colors being brown, yellow, and orange. The band was Le Funque.

They have shared many good, bad, and funny memories that will never be forgotten. The time has come to graduate and to go on to meet new friends. The class of '80 is graduating at the turn of a new decade. This new generation will face many new challenges and exciting thoughts.

What is Chuck thinking about now?

Did all the seniors sign it?

The man of the hour - Mike Sobba

Sophomores Excel

Last year's spirited group of freshmen returned this year as sophomores, with no less enthus...

There were many outstanding individual sophomores in athletics as well as in academics. The sophomores had the biggest turnout for the varsity football team. They hope to continue with football and lead us on in later years.

They have, as have the other classes, realized the expense of the prom and the chance... even more inflated in cost by next year when it will be their responsibility. So they set their class dues at five dollars, to be paid $2.50 per semester.

I think that as soph... read us well when we are... impression on all we are near...

Lives End With Time

In beginning a new decade we left behind some sad memories because three of our friends died in 1979. Bill Likes, who would have been a junior; Scott Wells, a 1979 graduate; and Dee Ann Berry, GHS cook.

Bill Likes was born in March of 1963 and died in a car accident on June 20, 1979. He was only sixteen. Many of his friends remember him as a warm person. He could unselfconsciously put his arm around you and bring you from unhappiness to a happy high. Bill was a person who his friends could talk to and to whom he would gladly listen. His friends remember him for what he was and with love.

Dee Ann Berry, or Mom, as she was called by many of the kids in the lunch line, always wore a smile, never a frown. She worked as a cook for five years. She knew no stranger and loved everyone. There was not anything that she wouldn't do for you if at all possible. Her co-workers described her as fun to be with and the life of the kitchen. She was full of life and enjoyed living it. She is greatly missed by all who knew her.

Scott Wells, a 1979 graduate, died when the truck he was driving backed over a cliff. He was a good listener and considerate of other people's feelings. He loved music, sports, and to be outdoors where he felt most at home. He didn't fit in with one group of people, but got along with everyone. Scott was a person who knew what his priorities were and lived up to them. Scott would have been 19 the day after he died.

When first told our friends, co-workers, and past students had died, we experienced grief and sadness, but now as we look back at the past year we also will remember Bill, Dee Ann, and Scott with respect and many fond memories.

A Time For Goodbyes

The last bell has rung, the last roll has been taken. And now is the time that friends must part to make room for others, as high school learning is over. Now is the time for ending, but also a time for new beginnings. Summer will come and go, as will many things. For there are many emotions, and this is a time for heartaches and happiness, along with many other feelings. But now, especially for the seniors who are going their own way, this is a time to say GOOD BYE.
